Potholes and metro work don't mix

The combination of these two factors has made the daily commute a nightmare

STAFF REPORTER
BENGALURU

A combination of potholes and metro work across several stretches in the city has made daily commute a nightmare for motorists. From Whitefield where Metro construction has just taken off to Mysuru Road and Kanakpura Road, metro barricades have begun to symbolise traffic jams. Slush, craters and cave-ins are the norm these days, say motorists.

After the recent spate of rainfall across the city, not only have massive potholes sprung up, but the overall condition of roads have also deteriorated. Roads along metro piers, which are being put up for Phase II, are filled with gravel, dust and water-logged potholes.

While the BMRCL has widened roads and installed barricades to regulate traffic at least on Mysuru Road, there is no segregation of vehicles by class as was envisaged. As a result, mixed traffic is plying on narrow lanes meant to handle only cars or two-wheelers, which leads to traffic jams.

The situation worsens on holidays when people head out of the city.

G If the condition of the roads was better, the barricades wouldn't have impacted traffic so much. However, with the road width already shortened considerably, potholes make it much tougher to navigate. In many places, these potholes have the capability to seriously injure motorists

Citizens seek discussion on Metro integration

Invite BMRCL for a conference, which will be open to all

Citizens are against BMRCL building Cantonment metro station beneath a playground. ■ K. MURALI KUMAR

BENGALURU

Citizens opposing the change in location of the Cantonment Metro station will be holding a round table conference, which will be open to all, to counter the move by the Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation (BMRCL), which they say, chose to hold a press conference instead of a public meeting over the issue.

Scheduled to take place on Saturday, the public discourse will take up issues related to Namma Metro and the integration of public transport systems in the city, the organisers said.

"Integration between different modes is the need of the hour. Missing any opportunity to seamlessly integrate the bus and train systems will cost us dearly for decades. The round table will bring to light the gaps and solutions," said Sathya Sankaran, of civic advocacy group Praja.in.

The move to relocate the metro station away from the railway station has attracted severe criticism from citizens, politicians as well as experts all of who agree that it is a bad move.

Tara Krishnaswamy, a member of Citizens for Bengaluru (CfB), said on Wednesday, "I request politicians and others supporting this shift to travel by public transport for five days. Let them walk from their house, catch a bus to the metro station and then travel by train within the city with their files in hand, and then they will see how hard the last-mile commute is."

Those taking part in the discussion will include Ashish Verma of the Indian Institute of Science; Pawan Mulukutla, head of transport

Highlights of round table conference

- Date: October 7
- Time: 4 p.m.
- Venue: Rotary house of friendship, Lavelle Road
- Issues to be discussed
 - Cantonment metro station relocation
 - Integration of metro with public transport
 - Last-mile connectivity

Problem at Cantonment

- Cantonment railway station
 - Daily footfalls: 40,000
 - Distance from railway station to proposed metro station
 - 1.2 kilometres (by road)
 - BMRCL's arguments
 - Old alignment has 1.8 km tunnel
 - New alignment is 800 metres shorter
 - Travel time reduces by 2 minutes
 - Saving of over ₹1,000 crore

WRI; and Anand G.M., retired railways officer.

"We have invited leaders of all parties, the ministers concerned, members of Parliament, officials of BMTC, BMRCL, Railways, traffic police and the BBMP," said a statement from CfB.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT BENGALURU

A day after Geethavishnu surrendered before the Central Crime Branch (CCB), the First Additional Chief Metropolitan Magistrate Court on Wednesday granted bail to the grandson of liquor baron lake D.K. Audikeshavulu.

Police produced him in court to seek custody to question him about the 110 grams of marijuana reportedly found in his car.

The 27-year-old was on September 28 involved in an accident in which six people, including three children, were injured, at South End Circle. A day later, he escaped from Mallya Hospital, which is owned by his family.

The public prosecutor submitted that Vishnu was not cooperating with the investigation when he was in the hospital and that he had escaped from police custody. The CCB suspect him of being associated with a drug racket, and sought his custody for further investigation.

However, the defence counsel submitted that all the three cases are bailable offences and that his client is ready to co-operate with the investigation, which was the reason for surrendering to the police.

Hearing the submission, Vishnu was granted bail in all the three case: negligent driving causing injuries, Narcotics Drug and Psychotropic Substances Act and escaping from police custody. The bail came with a ₹25,000 bond.

The CCB has summoned Vishnu, along with eight others, for questioning on Thursday.

(Corporate or otherwise) having any claims or right, title, interest, pending litigation or demand of any nature in or upon the Schedule Property or any part thereof, the same may be brought to the notice of the undersigned in writing together with all details of the right, title, interest, claim, pending litigation or demand made together with supporting documents within fifteen (15) days from the date of this notice, failing which such claim shall be considered to have been waived and/or given up and our client shall be entitled to complete the transaction in respect of the Schedule Property. Objections and/or claims received after the expiry of the period stipulated above shall neither be entertained nor be binding on our client.

In a letter to Bengaluru City Development Minister K.J. George, he described the potholes as BBMP-sponsored ones.
